

Proposal : Phys 217 Ethics in Engineering

Our project aims to solve the issue of massive power expenditure from the servers that companies use. With the advent of web applications and artificial intelligence, the power consumption of companies has become equivalent to that of a small country.